In Middlebury, where the fight against the automobile is the most strenuous, a horse was sold for $2 on Monday. Hadn't been auto-broke probably.

THE PRICE OF NEGLIGENCE.

The discussion of the fearful disaster on the Boston & Maine road at Canaan, N. H., seems to resolve itself into this conclusion: You can't do a double-track business on a single-track railroad. Added to this were the out-of-date methods in use in the operation of the road. The Springfield, Mass., Republican, in commenting on the accident, says:

"This present accident took place on the main line of the company through New Hampshire, and the fact that it is a single-track line made a block signal system all the more imperative. Yet we do not find in the account of the disaster any indication of the presence or use of such a system; reliance against collisions being apparently placed wholly upon the old, old telegraphic method of regulating the movement of trains. No block system so far tried in this country is an absolutely certain preventive of collisions. Trainsmen have been known to run past a danger signal and into an occupied block where they had no business to be. But approved block devices greatly reduce the chances of accident, and there is no line in the whole Boston and Maine system which calls for such a system more urgently than this northern New Hampshire main line of single track. For apparent neglect to establish this safety device on that line, the Boston and Maine management is to be severely condemned."

Here in Vermont we have at least one road trying to do a double-track business on a single-track road, with the same old methods of regulating the movement of trains, with the consequent result of accident after accident, fortunately though, so far without any great loss of life. But with conditions as they are, how long will it be before the road will pay the fearful price?

JINGLES AND JESTS

The Amendment.

"Where are you going to my pretty maid?"
"I'm going to a lecture, sir," she said.
"May I come with you, my pretty maid?"
"You won't understand it, sir," she said.
"What is the subject, my pretty maid?"
"It's on 'woman's rights,' good sir," she said.
"Then you won't marry, my pretty maid?"
"If they'll cut out 'obey' I will," she said.

A Referee.

Jasper—Have you got a nurse for your children yet?
Jumpuppie—No. We have changed our policy and have hired a referee.—Town Topics.

Magazine Lyrics.

If you rhyme a gentle jingle
Where high-sounding words comingle
And your metaphor is happily inclined,
If your metre is simple
Or a trifle dithyrambic
And your muse has really something on its mind—

If your pitch is wisely graded
And your point a trifle shaded
And some mistiness is hovering over the scene,
If your sentiment is shrouded
And your meaning somewhat clouded
And there's just enough digression in between—

You can count on adulation
From the wisest of the nation;
For the most successful poems of today
Whether humorous or solemn—
Brief, or taking up a column—
Are invariably constructed just this way.

—Brooklyn Life.

Their Fortunes.

Professional pugilists carry their fortunes in their fist.—Chicago News.

Contentment and Greed.
Some folks if they "make both ends meet"
Believe themselves in clover.
But others think it incomplete
Unless the ends lap over.
—Catholic Standard and Times.

An Explanation.

"Why is it that it is so easy to gather an inquisitive crowd in the street? Is it because people haven't anything else to do?"
"No; it is because they'd rather not do it."—Lippincott's.

Self Evident.

"Pray, whom do you love best?" she said.
"With just a little smile,
He scratched his very stupid head
And pondered for awhile.
An answer, true and evident,
Came from a neighboring shelf.
He gazed into a mirror there
And in it saw—himself!"
—La Touche Hancock in New York Press.

Out of the Ordinary.
Goodbye—He always seems to be very earnest, at any rate.
Knox—Oh, very! Why, he can say "How are you?" and give you the impression that he really wants to know.
—Catholic Standard and Times.

MONTPELIER

H. J. M. Jones Laid Up With Bad Foot—Increased Water Rentals.

H. J. M. Jones is confined to the house by a bad foot, sustained while at the St. Bernard club in Canada, from where he recently returned. He stepped on a hot coal and burned the member severely, so that he has to go about on crutches.

Prof. and Mrs. John W. Burgess and son, Jewett, arrived in Montpelier on Monday evening to remain two weeks at the Redstone before going to New York. They arrived in New York from Germany on Saturday. Prof. Burgess was the first to hold the chair under the Theodore Roosevelt professorship at Berlin and has just completed the year.

The grocery part of Cameron & Noy's business at 30 and 32 Barre street has been purchased by J. R. Morse, who took full possession yesterday. Mr. Cameron deceased recently and the apparatus and separator supplies part of the business will be conducted by Mr. Noy under the old name until the estate is settled. Mr. Morse will occupy the first store, number 30, as a grocery.

Practically the same number of students will be registered in the high school this year as there were last year. The number now reaches 145. The registration last year was 133, the largest in the history of the school. Several have signified their intention of entering before long and it is confidently expected that there will be about as many students in the high school this term as a year ago.

Supt. Smith of the water department has found as the result the recent inspection of the faucets, etc., in the various houses in town using the city water, that increases amounting to $1,068 should be made and that $237 should be deducted, as the fixtures have been reduced. The net gain will therefore be $831. This includes the increase made at the National Life and Pavilion. These elevators are figured on a basis of $200 a year. Each time the elevator is operated it is estimated to discharge 100 gallons of water.

The annual cake bake given by the R. C. Bowers company will occur on Saturday at Fountain park, where it has been held in the past few years. Capt. Joseph Wilson who has prepared the bakes for the past few years and who is probably the best man in "the profession" will be in charge of the bake this year. Capt. Wilson has been this summer with a yachting club near Providence working under Harry Brice who was in the city Monday to take in the Alumni banquet. Mr. Bowers is preparing his list of invitations and expects that he will have about the usual number of guests at the bake. Last year there were about 350 persons.

A young Englishman called at the police station yesterday forenoon and asked the help of the chief of police in locating Mrs. Eva Anderson, who was supposed to be employed in this city. The young man is a paper-hanger by trade and had been in this country but a short time. He bore a letter of introduction to Mrs. Anderson from her brother-in-law, with whom the young man was acquainted. The chief tried to locate the woman, but without success. She is said to be an English woman and a tailor's wife. The man intends to locate in the city if he can find work at his trade. The chief is trying to find Mrs. Anderson, but it is a rather blind task with the scanty data he has at hand, which consists in her name and occupation.

BOY RAN AWAY WITH UNCLE.

Bethel Lad of 13 and Uncle of 26 Found in New Hampshire.

Bethel, Sept. 18.—William H. Kendall has returned from Winchester, N. H., bringing with him his 13-year-old son, William, and Leslie Spooner, the younger's uncle, 26 years of age. Young Spooner had been working at Mr. Kendall's and one morning last week it was found that the two had disappeared. They took the night train at Randolph buying tickets for White River Junction, the boy, who is small for his age, travelling half-fare. From there they managed to proceed to Winchester, though they had only about two dollars when they left Bethel. The Kendall boy owned a cheap watch and rifle, which were missing and these may have been sold or pawned for passage money. He had been to school two days before the escape, but disliked to go. Spooner is said to have a jail record in western New Hampshire and is believed to have enticed the boy away.

gain in good shape which Alderman Cutler said Tomasi had never done and had refused to pay for fixing half of it when the city offered to build the other half. On motion of Alderman Cutler it was voted to dismiss the matter. Postmaster E. W. Bisbee stated to the council that two more desks for the letter carriers were needed in the post office on account of the extra carrier that would be put on Oct. 1. On motion of Alderman Campbell the matter was referred to the property committee with power to act. Alderman Thurston reported that James Grogan, of Brook street had complained to him of a dog killing one of his hens and wanted the city to pay for the loss. The matter was referred to Alderman Thurston to investigate and report back.

Alderman Cutler stated that the liability insurance policy of the city help expired next week and that Agent F. L. Place had spoken to him about renewing it. Mr. Cutler said that there had been some discussion about dropping the insurance as there had been so much trouble in collecting a claim from the company. The city pays $319 in premiums a year for the insurance of the help in the fire, water, street and engineering departments. On motion of Alderman Ladd it was voted to lay the matter on the table for one week.

Alderman McNulty reported that Mrs. Frattini had offered to sell the much talked of land on River street to the city for $35 per foot front. On motion of Alderman Cutler the proposition was laid on the table.

MET AFTER 63 YEARS.

Two Aged Brothers Each Believed the Other Dead for Last 50 Years.

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Two brothers, one 91 and the other 80 years old, met here last night for the first time in 63 years. For nearly 50 years each believed the other to be dead. In 1848 Oliver P. Crandall went into the Methodist ministry, while his brother, Daniel, remained on the old farm in Pike county, Pennsylvania.

The war came on, they drifted apart and finally lost track of each other. Then each heard that the other was dead, and for years each believed the report. Recently Daniel, in his Pennsylvania home, learned that a retired Methodist minister, named Oliver Crandall, was living near here. Letters were exchanged and the meeting last night resulted.

"Nummy Dunny."

In his "Highways and Byways in Devon and Cornwall" Arthur H. Norway tells of a fragment of antiquity that still "lingers in the neighborhood of Redruth, where the country people when they see a ghost say, 'Nummy dunny,'" and he adds, "I leave the riddle to be solved by any one who is curious enough to undertake a useful piece of practice in unraveling the corruption of language."

The phrase is probably a corruption of "In nomine Domini," the Latin for "In the name of the Lord," a phrase so familiar in the devotion of the middle ages.

His Compliment.

A few weeks back a wedding breakfast was given by a substantial farmer blessed with five daughters, the eldest of whom was a bride. A neighbor, a young farmer, who was honored with an invitation, thinking no doubt that he ought to say something complimentary upon the event, addressed the bridegroom thus:

"Well, you have got the pick of the hatch."

The faces of the four unmarried ones were a study.—London Graphic.

The London Cabby.

An extreme specimen of a dandy alighted from a four wheeler and went round to pay the driver. The poor old bag of bones mare turned her head to gaze at him.

"Yes," said the driver confidentially to the horse as the passenger moved away, "that's the bluest object you've been a drawin' of!"—London Express.

Moving Pictures and Illustrated Songs

Mr. William Robertson, one of Barre's best known citizens, will be in attendance each evening and render all the latest popular illustrated songs. Mr. Robertson is gifted with a fine baritone voice bordering on the bass. In his rendition of a song Mr. Robertson uses excellent expression, leaving one always with the desire to hear the song once more. This, taken with the beautiful illustrations that accompany each song, makes a very enjoyable feature of the entertainment.

The Moving Picture part of the program will consist of all the latest subjects on the market and will change each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, making three entirely different entertainments each week. The program changed Monday and Thursday. We are guaranteed the latest and most up-to-date subjects for our Moving Pictures.

Ladies and children can come to this show unattended and be assured of courteous treatment at all times. Absolutely no offensive pictures will be shown. The person managing this little theatre has two theatres of the same kind now running in Montpelier, where they have become very popular and are patronized by the best people of that town. This alone should be a sufficient guarantee of the quality of this entertainment and the manner in which it is conducted.

Admission 5 Cents. Entertainment every half hour. If you come late for the beginning of a show you are welcome to stay to the next without any extra charge.
Doors will be open each afternoon from 2 to 6.30. Evenings 7 to 10.30.
Children under 10 years admitted free afternoons only when accompanied by either parent. Watch for the date of opening.
